ABSENCE OF PREDICTIONS AS BRITAIN CASTS VOTE

Conservatives Alone Hope For Clear Majority

LAST PLEAS IN

All Of England Will Wait Up For Returns

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 29.—An especially noteworthy feature of the closing campaign is the absence of the customary attempts to forecast results.

The Conservatives alone are hopeful of getting a clear majority, but admit that this depends on a larger proportion of voters going to the poll than last year. Mr. Stanley Baldwin's final appeal exhorts electors to vote Conservative "at the great crisis of our history."

Laboriten voice expectation of a sweeping victory, but nowhere boast in anticipation of a clear mandate.

The results of approximately 225 constituencies published tonight will be heard in comfort by millions throughout the country thanks to the elaborate arrangements. Theaters, music-halls and restaurants will remain open till the early hours of the morning. The railways are running special night services. Results will also be broad-

The train was halted in order to permit Marshal Wu to hold a conference with certain generals and local dignitaries. Upper right, Entrance to staff car of Marshal Wu's headquarters train at Tongshan. WU'S DEFENSE ON RAILWAY SECTOR IS BROKEN; TROOPS RETREAT TO LUTAI CANAL

Extent Of Collapse Not Known As Yet; 20,000 Chihli Soldiers Pass Luanchow Going Toward Tientsin Prior To Fengtien Occupation; Mukden Also Claims Gains On Shanhaikwan Front Where Remainder Of Chihli Army Is Now Besigeed

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, October 29.—A Mukden communique claims the complete occupation of Lanchow on October 28 at 4. p.m.

It states that the Chihli troops are retreating and that the surrender of a large portion is imminent.

Semi-official messages received in Tokio corroborate the foregoing and add that the defeated troops include the 14th, 26th and 39th brigades.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, October 29.—The Fengtien troops by a flanking movement threatened Luanchow whereupon the Chihli forces began to retreat, about 20,000 passing Luanchow before the Fengtien troops occupied that place. The remainder of the Chihli forces are apparently surrounded, and are bound to surrender.

Marshal Wu Pei-fu's men have been digging trenches for some days at Lutai Canal, and the retreating forces have taken up a fresh position there.

No new developments have taken place in Peking.

Later.—Japanese official messages indicate that the withdrawal of the Chihli forces towards the sea began on the evening of October 27, and a considerable number of troops landed to the South of Lutai, to which place they are marching.

It is impossible yet to estimate the extent of the collapse owing to the absence of news regarding the main Chihli forces at Shanhaikwan.

Small bodies of Chihli-ites are retreating through Tongshan in good order.

HEAVY FIGHTING
(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 28.—In the Shankaikwan sector, heavy fighting has continued since yesterday between the opposing combatants. Fighting is still going on briskly. While the war situation is somewhat unfavorable to the Chihli forces, they are bravely standing to their posts.

TO CUT RAILROAD
(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 28.—It is reported in Chinese circles that General Yen Hsi-shan, Tuchun of Shansi, has despatched three brigades of his troops to Shihchiachuan where they contemplate cuting off the Peking-Hankow line and further advancing with a view to occupying the iron-bridge, spanning the Yellow-River.

General Yen is said to have despatched a telegram dated October 26 to General Feng Yu-hsiang, urging the latter to recommend Marshal Tuan Chi-jui to the post of president.

FENGTIEN ATTACKS
(Eastern News Agency)

Mukden, Oct. 28.—The General Headquarters here announce that the Fengtien troops, which for the past few days have been replenishing munitions and provisions as well as adjusting their positions at the fronts, have now completed preparations for their long pursuit, and that today they launched a furious general attack upon the Chihli forces in the Shanhaikwan sector.

HUPEH REINFORCEMENTS
(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, Oct. 28.—Since the recent political change in the North, important meetings of leading military and civil officers have been held at the Tuchun's Office at Wuchang almost every day. Most of those present are reported to have expressed the view that the neutrality of Hupeh be maintained and that peace and order in the province be made the sole objective of the administrative policy of the local authorities.

As a result, General Hsiao Yao-nan, Inspector-General of Hupeh and Hunan, gave orders to the Hupeh troops, stationed in Honan, to return to Hankow, but upon receiving telegraphic orders on the 24th instant from Marshal

WU IN TIENTSIN; ACTS ON BEHALF OF PRESIDENCY

Sends Mission To Peking In Attempt To Win Back Feng Yu-hsiang

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tientsin, October 29.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu interviewed this afternoon by a representative of the Peking-Tientsin Times optimistically referred to the campaign against General Feng. He stated that he had received offers of help from Hunan, Hupeh, Shansi and other Provinces. He anticipated that he would decisively defeat General Feng in the field, rendering fighting in Peking unnecessary. He stated that his picked troops were entrenched midway between Yangtsun and Langfang, including the famous Third Division. He expects the Kiangsu Fourth Division in Tientsin tonight.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 28.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu's troops in the vicinity of Tientsin are estimated at about 6,000 strong, while upward of 1,000 Chihli troops are being kept in Yangtsun where they are now hastily constructing defense-lines.

Marshal Wu, who has now settled down in the Yamen of Civil Governor of Chihli, is issuing a series of Presidential Mandates on behalf of President Tsao Kun.

Marshal Wu yesterday sent to Peking General Chang Shao-tseng on a mission to prevail upon General Feng Yu-hsiang to change his mind and act once again in cooperation with Marshal Wu.

Yangtse Provinces Support Chi; Hupeh Men Departing

Sun Chuan-fang Gives Account Of Money Received Here; R.R. Traffic Delayed

Kiangsu, Chekiang, Hupeh, Kiangsi, Fukien, Anhui and the Nanking and Fukien fleets have joined hands with Wu Pei-fu, according to two circular telegrams issued yesterday in response to Marshal Wu Pei-fu's request for aid.

The one circulated by Marshal Chi Hsieh-yuan of Nanking was counter-signed by Marshal Sun Chuan-fang of Hangchow, Admiral Tu Shih-kwei of the Nanking fleet, Tuli Tsai Chung-hsun of Kiangsi, Tuli Ma Lien-chia of Anhwei, Tuli Chow Yin-jen of Fukien and Admirals Yang Shu-chwang and Li Ching-hsi.

In this, the Chihli leaders scored Feng Yu-hsiang for his ungrateful coup d'etat since he was brought up and made what he is today by Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu and condemned as a traitor for selling his soul to the enemy. The document invited all men of power and decision to crush the ingrate and save the republic from ruin.

Marshal Hsiao Yao-nan's manifesto, which was cooped with the same terms, was endorsed by his Hupeh lieutenants, including Brigadier-General Chang Yung-ming, who has been holding the Lunghua Arsenal here ever since the flight of Ho Feng-lin.

The call to arms was contained in a circular telegraphic declaration made public here by the Chinese telegraph administration on Tuesday night and credited to Marshal Wu Pei-fu. A translation of the message follows:

"I have this day been instructed by the President to mass my forces to attack the traitor, Feng Yu-hsiang, who has rebelled against the Central Government. The president further appoints Inspector-General Chi Hsieh-yuan of Kiangsu, Anhui and Kiangsi; Inspector-General Sun Chuan-fang of Fukien and Chekiang; Inspector-General Hsiao Yao-nan of Hupeh and Hunan and Inspector-General Liu Tsen-hua of Shensi, Kansu and Sinkiang to join with me in the suppression of the rebel jointly.

The military authorities in the various provinces are also instructed to assist in the work of suppression by myself amicably so that the traitors may be gotten rid of at the earliest possible moment."

One regiment of the forces under the Hupeh Commander, Chang Yung-ming who has been occupying the Lunghua Arsenal, left here for Wuchang by steamers yesterday. General Chang himself is still in Shanghai. The move is expected to pave the way eventually for the evacuation of all the Hupeh men from Shanghai, thus completing the much-desired plan of the Kiangsu authorities to claim back the district of Sungkiang and Shanghai, alienated from them by Lu Yung-hsiang and Ho Feng-lin half a dozen years ago.

Marshal Sun Chuan-fang of Hangchow yesterday sent a letter to the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce at Shanghai, expressing his appreciation for the financial assistance given him during his sojourn in Shanghai in enabling him to re-enlist the defeated Chekiang Army. He enclosed a statement of accounts, which showed that he spent the sum of $212,560 for the work of repatriation. The total amount of receipts from the Chinese merchants here was $200,000, the balance being paid by him in Hangchow, he said.

Traffic along the Shanghai-Nanking Railway is still disrupted on account of the movement of army trains. The morning train which was despatched at 9:30 o'clock was over-crowded, many being left behind for lack of accommodations. The one scheduled to leave here at 12:30 was very much delayed by the troop trains.

Along the Shanghai-Hangchow line, the section between Sungkiang and Fengking has to be covered by boats on account of the wrecking of Bridges No. 31 and No. 34. A great deal of inconvenience is experienced by passengers, especially those who have baggages.

EX-OFFICER IN CANTONESE ARMY SHOT DEAD HERE

Assassin's Attack Believed To Be Outgrowth Of Political Feud

A Chinese, believed to have been a former officer in the Cantonese army, was shot dead by an unknown assassin in Amoy Road yesterday afternoon while he was watching a funeral procession pass by. Despite the presence of many other Chinese in the street at the time, the man's assailant managed to escape.

Detectives from Louza station, who investigated the shooting following a report made by a Sikh constable who had been on duty nearby, found the wounded man lying on the street, with blood gushing from his mouth and a bullet hole in his head. He was removed to Shantung Road Hospital, but on arrvial there he was pronounced dead and the body was removed to the mortuary.

It is believed that the shooting was the result of some political feud. Witnesses reported that there had been no disturbance prior to the shooting, and no attempt was made to rob the victim. The assassin apparently had his victim picked, and, coming up from behind, fired the one shot into his head and fled.

JAPANESE DENY OPPOSITION TO RETREAT OF WU

Tientsin Report Is Refuted By Tokio Bureau Of Foreign Affairs

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Tokio, Oct. 29.—The Tientsin report that the Japanese garrison at Chinwangtao would oppose Marshal Wu Pei-fu's retirement by sea is categorically denied by the Vice-Minister of Foreign Affairs, who explained that acting as spokesman for a conference of the commanders of the foreign garrisons at Chinwangtao the Japanese commander, with the agreement of his colleagues, warned Marshal Wu against war operations in that district to ensure the safety of foreign residents, adding that the Powers might be forced to adopt self-protective measures should the warning be ignored.

Hupeh Troops Will Leave For Home Province Today

BY D. J. LEWIS

There will be 1,500 fewer soldiers at the Shanghai Arsenal by noon today, according to information obtained at Lunghwa last night. The 1,500 soldiers which are saying goodbye to Shanghai today are the Fourth Brigade of Hupeh troops and comprise part of General Chang Yuen-min's command to the total of about 6,000 troops which got through the lines and into the Arsenal in some mysterious manner almost simultaneously with the collapse of the Chekiang defense and the flight of Generals Lu and Ho to Japan.

The Hupeh troops are departing by the steamer Kung Ping of the China Merchants Steam Navigation Company, which is tied up at the Kiangnan Dock. The destination of the steamer is the town of Hwangchow, a garrison town near Kiukiang in Hupeh Province. Three other ships of the China Merchants Company, the Chaho, Taishun and Feiching have also been chartered to transport the remainder of the Hupeh troops away from Shanghai.

SUN'S TROOPS HERE

In spite of reports to the contrary the Second Brigade of the Fifth Division of General Sun Chuan-fang's troops are still in Shanghai and are quartered in the grounds and buildings of the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works. When or whether these troops are to be returned to the headquarters of their commander at Hangchow is not known. The Hupeh troops still remaining here are quartered in the Lunghwa yamen at the Arsenal adjoining the Dock and Engineering Works.

Perhaps the most interesting

Wu Pei-fu that the Hupeh punitive force against General Feng Yu-hsiang should be despatched to the North at once, Tuchun Hsiao has changed his attitude and decided to send northward four mixed brigades of Hupeh troops. It is understood that mobilisation orders have already been given to the troops in question.

ISSUE IN DOUBT

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 28.—Judging from the state of affairs in various quarters, it seems evident that there will be many complications before Marshal Tuan Chi-jui is enabled to enter Peking.

According to a well-informed Chinese politician, in case Marshal Tuan makes up his mind and enters the capital in compliance with the request by the leaders of the so-called "National Army," it seems likely that Mr. Tang Shao-yi will be appointed as Premier, Mr. Huang Fu as Minister of the Interior, Mr. Wang Ta-hsieh as Minister for Foreign Affairs, Mr. Chu Chi-chien as Minister of Communications, Mr. Fu Yu-fen as Minister of Education, and Mr. Wang Chao-ming as Minister of Justice.

Judging, however, by the existing precarious political atmosphere in the North, it is as yet problematical whether General Feng Yu-hsiang's coup d'etat will bear fruit at all.

WU STILL IN TIENTSIN

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 28.—The Eastern News Agency's correspondent, who has just returned from a visit to the war zone between Peking and Tientsin, reports:

Marshal Wu Pei-fu, who was reported to have established his headquarters in Yangtsun, is still staying at the Central Station of Tientsin, where there are kept several military trains. Among those Chihli troops, which have come back from the fronts in the Shanhaikwan sector together with Marshal Wu Pei-fu, are the majority of the 3rd and 26th Divisions and the 1st Mixed Brigade.

Positions have already been occupied by some one brigade in the sector near Yangtsun. The advanced troops under the command of Marshal Wu are now strenuously digging shelter-trenches to the extent of some 700 metres to the north of Changchuan station, whereas the Shensi troops under the command of General Hu Ching-yi, some one brigade, have established their positions in Langfang to meet any attack by Marshal Wu's troops.

General Feng Yu-hsiang is now despatching the 7th Mixed Brigade as reinforcements to the above Shensi troops. A large number of camels are being employed by General Feng's forces for the transportation of warstores.

SUN YO MOVES DOWN

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, Oct. 28.—The greater part of the 1st Shensi Division under the command of General Hu Ching-yi and one brigade of General Feng Yu-hsiang's troops completed their concentration in Langfang yesterday. Their object, it is reported, is to attack Yangtsun.

In the meantime, the 15th Mixed Brigade under the command of General Sun Yo, acting in unison with one brigade of the 13th Division have captured Marshal Wu's positions near Chingshintien and are now making preparations for their advance towards Paotingfu. It is stated that a scouting party of these troops on the 26th instant encountered the vanguards of the 25th Hupeh Division, who are now advancing northward from Hupeh Province by the request of Marshal Wu Pei-fu, at a point near Liuliho.

The majorty of General Feng's forces and those troops, which have returned from the fronts in Jehol Province, acting in concert with General Feng Yu-hsiang, have all been concentrated in Fengtai, Huangtsun, Tungchow, Nanyuan and Peiyuan on the outskirts of Peking. It is learned from an authentic source that General Feng himself will go to the front in a day or two and launch an attack upon Marshal Wu's troops in the Tientsin section, personally leading his troops.

CHIHLI LOOTING, REPORT

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, Oct. 28.—A despatch from Luanchow reports that the Chihli troops, belonging to the 9th and 20th Divisions, have arrived there from the direction of Lingkou and immediaely proceeded to loot villages around Luanchow. It is also reported that looting took place in Tongshan a few days ago with the consequence that some contingents of the American garrison have been despatched to protect the railway and its property there.

Tientsin, Oct. 28.—Marshal Wu Pei-fu is at present not advancing beyond Yangtsun where his troops are entrenched.

The indications are that a battle is not imminent but that Marshal Wu is awaiting definite promises from Kiangsu, Hupeh, and Shantung.

Numerous troop trains from Honan are stated to be at Hsuchowfu at present.

It is reliably reported from Tongshan that units of the Ninth and Twenty-third Divisions, formerly commended by General Wang Chen-ping, are arriving from Hsifengkow cross country in large numbers.

The Senior Consul called on Marshal Wu Pei-fu at his headquarters in the native city and called his attention to the Protocol forbidding the stationing of troops in Tientsin and its vicinity.

Admiral Leveson left Tientsin this morning to rejoin H. M. S. Hawkins at Taku.

The international train has returned from Peking. It leaves again on Wednesday.

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 28.—Authoritative reports from Chinwangtao state that the Fengtien forces opened gunfire upon the railway area at Shanhaikuan yesterday to which the Chihli heavy guns replied with prolonged firing. Otherwise there was no fighting and no change on the whole front up to last evening.

A Fengtien aeroplane is reported to have registered a hit on the cruiser Haichi, damaging the main deck.

Tokio Population Shows Big Increase

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, Oct. 29.—Returns of official investigations into the population of the City of Tokio say that there are at present 1,917,308 citizens in Tokio, showing an increase by 389,819 as compared with the population registered in October of last year. Tokio has thus come up to 5th from 9th place among the leading cities of the world, though the present population is some half a million less than that before the September 1 earthquake disaster.

REVOLT LETTER SHEER FORGERY SAYS ZINOVIEFF

Was Undergoing Cure And Not Able To Sign It, He Says

(Reuter's Service)

Moscow, Oct. 28.—M. Zinovieff in a statement to the press today declared that the alleged letter was a forgery. He was undergoing a cure at Kislovodsk on September 15 and was not able to sign any official letters. The alleged instructions to the military section of the British Communist Party were nonsense. Such a section did not exist. The Party had far more important things to consider than the creation of a British Red Army, especially the task of bringing the views of the Communist International before the masses of British workers.

M. Zinovieff said that he undertook to abide by the decision of the British Trade Union Commission with regard to the authenticity of the letter. He asserted that it had been fabricated in Poland.

HEAD OF LOCAL AUCTION FIRM FACES CHARGES

Misappropriation Of Funds Is Alleged In Italian Consular Warrant

Mr. F. Parlani, general manager of W. Funder and Company, auctioneers, 40A Kiangse Road, was taken into custody yesterday on an Italian consular warrant charging him with misappropriation of funds. Details of the charge were not made public, but it is understood that it is based on failure to account for moneys received for certain goods entrusted to Parlani for sale in his capacity as auctioneer.

According to information obtained at the Italian Consulate-General, no bail has been fixed in the case as yet, nor has any date been assigned for a hearing into the matter, although it is expected that trial will be held at an early date. Following his arrest, Parlani was turned over to the Italian consular authorities, who, in turn, ordered him held by the French police until trial or release on bond.

Civil proceedings against the firm of W. Funder and Company have been pending in the Italian Consular court for some time past.

Parlani has been a resident of Shanghai for many years. Latterly, he has resided at the Astor House.

FRANCE GRANTS RECOGNITION TO SOVIET RUSSIA

Exchange Of Ambassadors Is Suggested In Note From Herriot

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Oct. 28.—The Government will announce official recognition of the Soviet Government this evening.

(Reuter's service)

Moscow, Oct. 28.—M. Herriot's note conveying de jure recognition suggests an immediate exchange of Ambassadors.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, October 29.—The French note to Russia conveying recognition stipulates that recognition will in no wise infringe any undertaking entered into by France, and also expressly reserves the rights of the French Government and citizens respecting the obligations of former Russian regimes. Finally it insists on the mutual non-interference in the other's internal affairs.

The Soviet's reply expresses the hope that all the questions mentioned in the French note will be satisfactorily settled at the forthcoming negotiations, and welcomes the French declaration regarding internal non-interference.

Harvard Curriculum Upset By War Here

(Reuter's American Service)

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 3.—The war in China has upset the Harvard College curriculum. Dr. Kuang Ti-mei, who was to have given a course in the Chinese language beginning a week ago, was delayed in Shanghai and no one of the hundreds of professors, instructors and assistants at Harvard could be induced to substitute for him until his expected arrival on November 1.

Prof. J. H. Woods of the philosophy department said that Dr. Kuang, a graduate student here five years ago, had been delayed in reaching Shanghai by the war, and then found that no bank in the besieged city would cash the check from Harvard intended to pay his travel expenses. He missed three boats, but is reported on his way.

Mixed Court Makes Good Progress In Clearing Up Docket

In spite of the heavy strain imposed upon the Mixed Court by reason of the disturbed conditions which existed during the war period, splendid progress was made during the month of September in clearing up the docket of civil cases, the monthly report of Inspector J. E. Wheeler, acting registrar, which is published in today's issue of the Municipal Gazette, indicates.

The average time elapsing between the serving of the summons and the hearing of a civil action has been reduced from eight months to two and one-half months in Chinese cases, and from six months to one month in foreign civil cases. There are now five court rooms, all fully utilised, both in the morning and afternoon.

Debating Teams Of Columbia, Oxford Argue Prohibition

Malcom MacDonald, Son Of Premier, Leader Of British Squad

(Reuter's American Service)

New York, Oct. 1.—Debating teams representing Columbia University and Oxford University tonight argued the question of prohibition to a draw before an audience at Town Hall. The audience, which voted on the ability of the teams, appeared to the judges to be equally divided.

The British team, led by Mr. Malcolm Macdonald, son of the British Premier, argued against prohibition, while the American team, speaking for the affirmative, was composed of debating veterans under the leadership of Mr. Hugh S. Williamson, captain of a squad which in 1923 invaded English and Scottish universities.

Mr. Macdonald not only is a debater of note, but now stands for selection as a prospective Labor candidate from the Bassetlaw division of nottinghamshire.

cast by wireless until one o'clock in the morning.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Oct. 28.—Mr. Ramsay MacDonald was indisposed today. He was unable to address a meeting this afternoon.

Mr. J. H. Thomas, predicting that Labor would return stronger than ever, said that the Laborites would not resign as a result of the election. They would face Parliament with the King's speech, in which the Party's policy would be set out.

"Those democrats, those progressive people will be obliged to face Parliament and go to the lobby, when they will not only be obliged to say that they are turning us out but also who they are putting in in our place. That," Mr. Thomas concluded, "will be a very interesting division."

Mammoth Block Of Ice Uncovered In Nevada Excavation

(Reuter's American Service)

Reno, Nev., Oct. 12.—A freak of nature near here in the form of a huge solid block of ice buried 12 feet underground, measuring 60 feet in length, 20 feet in width and 10 feet in thickness, was uncovered recently by a steam shovel, while working on the new Truckee river highway. The workmen, after making numerous attempts to go around the ice, finally were forced to blast their way through it with high explosives.

It is believed that originally the ice, which is estimated to be about 40 years old, was a field of snow on the mountain side above and was compressed into its present form by an avalanche of earth, rocks and trees.

Council Voices Thanks To Foreign Naval Units

The thanks of the Shanghai Municipal Council for the effective work done by the various foreign naval units in guarding the borders of the Settlement and preventing disorders during the duration of the war in the vicinity of Shanghai are expressed in letters sent by the Council to the various foreign naval commanders. The letters read:

"Council Chamber,

"Shanghai, October 27, 1924.

"Sir:—I am directed to convey to you an expression of the Council's appreciation of the distinguished service rendered by yourself, and the officers and men under your command, during the period of the State of Emergency caused by the military conflict between the Provinces of Kiangsu and Chekiang.

"That the situation was at times fraught with the gravest possible danger to the peace and safety of the Foreign Settlement, the Council is indeed only too fully aware, and it is attributable to your prompt and effective action in providing landing parties to assist in the Settlement Defence, that this danger was averted and the safety of the Settlement was assured.

"I am directed, therefore, to express to you, and to the officers and men under your command, the gratitude and thanks of the Council and the Foreign Settlement, for the invaluable services rendered.

"I am, Sir,

"Your obedient servant,

"E. S. B. Rowe,

"Acting Secretary."

Letters of appreciation were also sent to the Shanghai Race Club, the Shanghai Golf Club, the Shanghai Cricket Club, the Masonic Club, the Lusitano Club, the Japanese Naval Club, the Catholic Circle, the Japanese Public School for Girls, the Japanese Public School, the Shanghai Waterworks Co., Ltd., the Shanghai Mutual Telephone Co., Ltd., and the Yu Fong Toyo Cotton Spinning Co., Ltd., all of which had placed their premises at the disposal of the defence forces during the period of the emergency.

Fengtien Asks Armistice For An Exchange Of Dead

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 22.—Shanhaikwan telegrams dated October 20, in emphasising that the recent fighting had caused very heavy casualties on both sides on the Shanhaikwan front, say that a villager carrying a white flag crossed the Government front line on the evening of October 19 and handed over a letter addressed to General Peng Shao-hsin from General Kuo Sung-ling. The letter suggested an armistice in order to enable the dead and wounded to be removed from the field. The letter said:

"I have long heard your great name and when I think of the past I regret that we are now placed on opposite sides to talk over military affairs. While it is impossible to avoid conflict military leaders should show concern for the men under them. For days past battle has raged amid the roaring of guns and the brandishing of swords. Respect should be shown to the dead and too much care cannot be taken of the wounded, who are waiting in the sunshine and the wind. To allow this to continue is not only against one's conscience but would arouse the contempt of neighboring countries. In order to show compassion for the wounded and the dead I respectively beg to submit to your consideration the following terms, subject to such alteration as you may deem necessary. Kindly sanction this appeal, I cordially await your reply by my special messenger."

The terms included an exchange of the dead at noon, that persons engaged in this work should not be fired upon, but that they should refrain from any warlike attitude.

Far Eastern Times Reappears After Week's Suppression

Breaks Through Entanglements And Is Busier Than Ever

After being suppressed for exactly a week, the Far Eastern Times, Putman Weale's journalistic enterprise in Peking, has reappeared. Yesterday's mail brought to Shanghai the suppressed edition dated Saturday, October 18, the 'emergency edition' published on Friday and the Saturday edition.

According to its own story, the offices of the publication were visited by the Metropolitan police and subjected to a series of inconveniences. The trouble was apparently caused by the question of what constituted legitimate news from the viewpoint of the government. The offices were sealed up. Despite personal appeal of the chairman of the board of the company to Tsao Kun, the offices remained closed for a week.

On Thursday, the chairman made an affidavit in the British Consulate regarding that portion of the plant which he claimed as his own. On account of the chaos in the ministries, it was impossible for him to transact business with the government. However, the legal documents were deposited with one of the secretaries of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, who agreed to forward same to the Emergency Headquarters. In the evening, the police arrived and removed the seals, allowing the staff to resume their activities.

To celebrate the rebirth of his paper, Putman Weale contributed a 'dramatic story' to describe how the Christian General overthrew Tsao Kun's rule. One of the first acts of the paper was to demand the release of two political offenders: Mr. Chow, editor of the Kuo Wen News Agency jailed for publishing Chang Tso-lin's letter to Tsao Kun and S. C. Cheng, secretary of the Ministry of Finance for telling Sir Francis Aglen the truth regarding the bond issue for Wu Pei-fu's war chest.

Protest Capture Of Jamaica's Trade By Chinese Merchants

(Reuter's Service)

Kingston, Jamaica, Oct. 28.—Strong representations have been made to the Government by the Jamaica Imperial Association regarding the passing of Jamaica's trade into the hands of Chinese. An appeal is being made for the stoppage of alien immigration, and many candidates will make the exclusion of Chinese and Syrians the chief plank of their platform at the general election to the Legislative Council in January.

Blood Poisoning

Yet Another Grand Recovery

Our Portrait is of Mr. WILLIAM HARBORNE, of 6, Railway Road, Perry Bar, Birmingham, England, who writes:

"About two years ago I met with rather a bad accident. My arm was cut severely, and I had to have it stitched at the hospital. This caused me six weeks' absence from work, and after resuming my duties for one week I broke out all over my body with huge Boils. Again I went to the Hospital, and was treated for Blood Poisoning; this happened on three successive occasions, until I began to think I should never be cured. Then I gave Clarke's Blood Mixture a trial, and the first bottle or two seemed to be driving out the poison, so I persevered, and after taking ten bottles I was cured. It is now over twelve months since I left off taking your Clarke's Blood Mixture, and I have seen no signs of any further blood disorder."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious.

Millinery Department

A NEW NOTE has been introduced in our latest consignment of HATS BY A SQUARE CROWN which adds importance to many models, and is at the same time very becoming.

FEATHER WEIGHT VELOURS appear to divide favour with the popular FELT for morning and sports wear.

For late Autumn use there is a VELOUR CLOTH hat of a soft finish, which together with CHENILLE and FUR with STRAW MIXTURES, are on view.

Hats express individuality, perhaps more than any other article of wear and a FUHLEE model will surely do so beside being elegant and stylish.

Your visit to our Millinery Department will incur no obligation, neither will you be pressed to make a purchase, so why not come and inspect the splendid display.

SO FAR SO GOOD! IT'S A LONG WAIT FOR ME HANGING AROUND UNTIL THE TIDE GOES OUT BUT IT'S GONNA BE WORTH IT! HURRY OUT, OLD TIDE, BEFORE JEFF RETURNS!
AT LAST THE TIDE'S ABOUT GONE OUT AND JEFF AIN'T NOWHERES IN SIGHT! IN A MINUTE I'LL HAVE MY MITTS ON THAT MAHOGANY LIBRARY TABLE AND ON MY WAY TO THE HOCK SHOP! SOFT!
NOW THAT THE TIDE'S GONE OUT I'M GOING DOWNSTAIRS AND KEEP AN EYE ON MY FURNITURE!
WELL, HOW IN—?
HELLO, MUTT! WHAT CAN I DO FOR YOU?

College Tennis

Shanghai College tennis team is out to repeat last year's victory, and played another practice game with the American School yesterday afternoon at Yangtzepoo. Shanghai College lost three matches out of four last Thursday, but did much better yesterday, and won two matches out of three.

The fourth match, between Tong and Smith, was a ding-dong game, providing some excitement to the spectators. Smith, of the American School, won the first set, which went to the score of 14-12. Tong won the second set, as closely contested, by 7-5. The two went into the third set in earnest, and played excellent tennis until darknes prevented further play, the score being 3-3 when the match was called off.

The scores were:

Hwang (P. L.) lost to Hager. 4-6, 8-6, 2-6.

Ling won from Rugh, 6-2, 6-3.

Hwang (G. D.) lost to Gray. 1-6, 2-6.

Tong drew with Smith, 12-14. 7-5, 3-3.

Pure Milk in Warm Weather

Warm weather does not affect the purity of Carnation Milk. It keeps indefinitely in the tin until opened and stays fresh and sweet for several days afterwards.

Think of the economy of a milk supply that will not spoil or turn sour on the hottest day. Carnation does this because it is hermetically sealed and sterilized to make it absolutely safe for the table.

Carnation Milk is simply fresh, full-cream milk from the finest dairy herds, with part of its water evaporated. Nothing is added to sweeten or preserve it.

Order Carnation Milk today and begin to enjoy its quality, convenience and economy.

BOXING CONTESTS WILL BE HELD IN FRENCHTOWN NOW

Andrade To Meet Volaire In Main Event Tonight; Good Bout Promised

Andrade, a high-class Filipino lightweight who arrived here early last week, is to appear in the main event at the bouts to be held tonight which will probably be at the Empire Theater, in Frenchtown. Andrade is to go up against Young Volaire, the boy who has licked everyone he has met in the ring here, either in his own division or among the welterweights.

It promises to be a high-class fight. Volaire has not been in the ring very frequently in the last few months, for the reason that none of the big boys are inclined to tackle him. The last time he appeared, it will be remembered, was against Bobby Favacho, when Bobby, who has about twenty pounds in weight and a yard or so in height and reach on the husky Filipino, kayoed him in the tenth round. This followed a fight a few weeks previous in which Volaire chased the big boy all over the ring, being awarded the decision at the end of the twelfth lap.

As regards Andrade, Volaire gives him a first-class reference. "He can fight," said Volaire, nursing his jaw reminiscently. "Take it from me he can fight." Volaire ought to know because he met the other boy in Manila last year and Andrade kayoed him, a rather unusual experience for Volaire, who is generally on the winner's end when there is any kayo punching done, with boys anywhere near his own size at any rate. Volaire has improved since coming to Shanghai, however, and filled out somewhat, so he has his chance for revenge tonight, and intends to make the most of it.

Andrade will enter the ring about two pounds heavier than our local star, tipping the scales at 135 pounds to Volaire's 133. They are booked for 12 rounds.

NEWCOMERS IN PRELIMS

In the special event Alberto, the highclass flyweight who has shown himself a match for such excellent bantams and feathers as Kute Canion and Johnny Hill, and who kayoed Folyano in his debut here three weeks ago, is due to meet Frisco Peralto. What he will do to Frisco is a matter of speculation, the speculating being mainly as to whether the local boy will succeed in maintaining the connection between his head and his shoulders. The two are booked for eight rounds.

Pete and Folyano are also duo to go eight rounds. Folyano, it will be remembered, was kayoed by Alberto here. He put up a creditable exhibition, however, and appears to be well matched with Pete, who has done very well recently. Last week Pete stood up excellently to Felipé Flores, and earned a draw decision and in the opinion of many a win, but one of the rawest decisions which has been handed down here gave the fight to Flores. It will be interesting to see if he can handle Folyano as he did Felipe. He has an advantage of several pounds on the newcomer.

AT EMPIRE THEATER

Owing to the refusal of a license by the Settlement authorities, tonight's fights are being held in Frenchtown, probably at the Empire Theater, instead of at the Carlton as usual. The French authorities approved the Boxing Association's application for a license without raising any difficulties whatever. The authorities there appear to have no objections in any way to the business which formerly went to the Carlton being transferred to an enterprise in the French Concession.

Most fight fans here probably know where the Empire Theater is located, at the turning where the street-cars turn from Rue du Consulat (Rue Ratard) on to Avenue Joffre. Any of the Frenchtown cars from the Bund go to the Empire Theater, which the street-car conductors know by the name of the "Ong-pah-yah," or more fully, the "Ong-pah-yah Ingsih-yueh." The platform used at the Carlton has been moved over there, with all the fixin's. The Empire is a good place, so long as it is impossible to hold the fights at the Carlton. There is adequate seating capacity downstairs, and the gallery is also available.

It is possible, however, owing to the haste which has been necessary in the preparations, that a change may be made at the last minute. The Association will know definitely this morning, and the street-car posters of the fight will show where it will be held.

SHANGHAI IS EVEN WITH HONGK'G IN INTERPORT MATCH

Singles Matches Conclude 3-3; Foursomes On This Afternoon

The first day of the interport golf match between Shanghai and Hongkong yesterday left the two teams even, each winning three of the six singles matches which completed the first half of the contest.

Results were as follows:

Ferrier (Shanghai) won from Ferguson (Hongkong), 3 up and 2 to play.

Budd (Shanghai) won from Shewan (Hongkong), 6 up and 5 to play.

Pilcher (Shanghai) won from Bennet (Hongkong), 6 up and 4 to play.

Camidge (Hongkong) won from Barrett (Shanghai), 7 up and 5 to play.

MacKenzie (Hongkong) won from Oswald (Shanghai), 11 up and 9 to play.

Smith (Hongkong) won from Porter (Shanghai) 6 up and 5 to play.

The best match was that between Messrs. Ferrier and Ferguson. The local star was up most of the way, and gained a lead of two in the morning game, but the Hongkong player hung on to the finish, playing an excellent game and keeping up well in the afternoon, when their scores were:

Ferguson, out,
6 5 4 3 5 4 4 4 3—38

Ferrer, out,
6 6 4 3 5 3 5 4 2—38

Ferguson in,
3 3 5 4 5 3 5 3 5—36—74

Ferrier, in,
3 3 4 5 4 3 4 4 5—35—73

Messrs. MacKenzie and Smith, of the visitors, both turned in 77 cards, MacKenzie in the morning play and Smith in the afternoon. The second best score for Shanghai was Mr. Pilcher's, 79 in the morning play and 78 in the afternoon.

FOURSOMES TODAY

The foursomes between the two teams will be played this afternoon, and the result is anything but certain. The Hongkong players showed themselves fully the equal of the local team yesterday, and played excellent golf, so the home team will have their hands full today if they are to win this interport match. The teams for the foursomes will be as follows:

Ferrier and Barrett vs. Ferguson and MacKenzie; Budd and Pilcher vs. Camidge and Shewan; Oswald and Porter vs. Bennet and Smith.

SKIN ERUPTIONS ORIGINATE IN BAD BLOOD

That Is Why They Disappear When The Blood Has Been Purified and Enriched by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. K. Richard Peiris, of Panadura, Ceylon, is one of those very numerous people who can testify to the curative merits of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from personal experience. He says:—

Mr. K. R. Peiris.

"As a result of impure weak blood some time ago spots appeared all over my body, legs and arms, and soon these broke out into ulcers. I first tried purgative medicines in the belief that they might do me good, but without success. Then I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and these blood pills put me right. At the time when I commenced taking them it was a torture to me to wear my coat, so bad were my arms. But before many doses signs of improvement set in and eventually the sores healed.

"Since that time I have been entirely free from this complaint and furthermore my general health has been first class, all due to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

The full address of Mr. Peiris is "Richieland", Walana, Panadura, Ceylon. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, the famous blood and nerve tonic which cured him, are obtainable from chemists throughout the world, or post free, $1.50 per bottle, $8. for 6 bottles from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 60 Kiangse Road, Shanghai.

TONIGHT

Intercollegiate Football

The East China Intercollegiate Football Series is scheduled to start the coming Saturday, November 1, with a game between Southeastern and the University of Nanking.

All colleges and universities in this vicinity are participating in this series except Hangchow. No team won the championship last year, there being a tie between Nanyang and St. John's which it was found impossible to play off. This year all the teams appear to be pretty even, so a very interesting series is assured.

Previously St. John's and Nanyang were permitted to decide the championship by two out of three games between themselves, but they are now brought down on the same basis as other institutions. The new regulations provide that in order to win the championship an institution must play at least five others.

The following schedule has been decided on as the basis of this season's play, and no change is to be made except by common consent. All games are to be concluded by December 20, the date set for the final game of the series.

The schedule is as follows:

FUTAN to play—

St. John's	Nov. 17
Southeastern	Nov. 19
Nanyang	Nov. 22
Soochow	Dec. 13
Shanghai	Dec. 20

SOOCHOW to play—

The Chinese Press denies the rumor that Lu Yung-hsiang had made his way to Mukden, and states that he is now living with the other defeated Generals of his Staff at Unzen near Nagasaki. It is stated that before his departure from Shanghai he remitted $6,000,000 to Japan through one of the foreign banks. Upwards of 800 packages formed the general's personal baggage which he took on board the Shanghai Maru with him. Apparently defeat is not accompanied by any lack of comforts, remarks the P. & T. Times.

American Co. S.V.C. To Hold Rifle Meeting On Sunday

The first meeting of the season of the China Society of Science and arts will be held at the Lecture Hall, Royal Asiatic Society 5 Museum Road, at 5:30 today. Mr. Arthur de C. Sowerby, President of the Society, will deliver a lecture entitled: "Big Game and other Hunting in China".

POLICE PROBING ALLEGED HOLDUP ON MYBURGH RD.

Victim Claims To Have Lost $1,000 With Search Party Nearby

Police of the Sinza station are investigating reports of an alleged robbery, which, the complainant claims, was perpetrated in full daylight within calling distance of a police search party on Myburgh Road near the Stone Bridge.

According to Eu Eu-sing 18 Kwang Foh Road, who filed his complaint wth the Sinza police, he was on his way from Chapei to a bank on Ningpo Road, carrying $1,000 in silver in a bag in his private ricsha.

Shortly after passing the police search party, he claims, four men stopped his ricsha. One of them was armed with a pistol. Neither the ricsha coolie nor Eu made any outcry or attempt at resistance, and Eu says, one of the four men grabbed the bag of money and carried it away on his shoulder. The bag must have weighed at least sixty pounds, the police estimate.

Stories of other witnesses conflict somewhat, none of them having seen any of the men produce a pistol.

Hupeh Troops Going Back Home Today

development in recent days at the Arsenal has been the quiet transfer of the large airplane flotilla, popularity reputed to number some thirty machines, from Shanghai toward the North, possibly to Nanking.

BEI BAO-SAN WAITING

This about completes the survey of the situation at the Arsenal. General Bei Bao-san, Marshal Chi's appointee as acting defense commissioner at Shanghai with his 7,000 troops scattered about the native cities and 3,000 troops at the Woosung forts is waiting to take control of the Arsenal as soon as the Hupeh troops and the remnant of Fukien troops are withdrawn from the Shanghai area.

At the Kiangwan Race course are still quartered about 12,500 of the defeated Chekiang troops under their new commander Brigadier-General Tseng Tsing-yen and what is to be done with these soldiers is still unknown. The Chinese Chamber of Commerce has contributed about $36,000 toward the feeding of these men, the work being handled through the hands of General Bei Bao-san, Acting Defence Commissioner.

From a financial standpoint, General Sun Chuan-fang, Tuchun of Fukien and Chekiang seems to have come out better than any of the other military contenders about Shanghai. Gen. Sun received $200,000 from the Chamber of Commerce presumably for the purpose of paying off and repatriating the defeated Chekiang troops. In some Chinese circles it is rumored that General Sun used about $30,000 of this to buy rifles from the defeated Chekiang troops at the rate of about $10 apiece which General Sun used to arm his troops which were short of equipment when they reached Shanghai.

Economic And Financial Conditions In September

The following report on silver and exchange is taken from statistics compiled by the Chinese American Bank of Commerce:

Warlike activities in China were responsible for a strengthening of the silver market. Banks here sought it wise to make preparations and consequently fairly large shipments were ordered. This had the effect of assisting the American Silver Producers Association in their aim to keep prices up. During September the Continent has not bought large amounts; if it is considered that all the mints in China producing silver coins had ceased work, it should follow that there was no cause for exceptionally high silver quotations. It now turns out that Poland made her July purchases of silver in New York on a credit basis, a procedure which will hardly be made universal by the Silver Association.

India became an important factor, by purchasing during September fairly large, quantities of bar silver. China's stocks are ample for visible needs.

Apart from her requirements of silver for monetary purposes China has a well developed trade in articles for practical use and art objects, made by her numerous silversmiths. Recently a new line has been added by employing silver for reproducing photographs thereon. The procedure consists of printing on a chemically prepared silver plate (usually 20 by 15 inches in size) the likeness of a person, which then finished in enamelled colors. The back ground (furniture, floors, etc.) is engraved. The picture is then placed in a passepartout of dark red plush and framed. If this innovation should find favor with the masses, it would provide another outlet for silver. At numerous occasions it is customary in China to present scrolls twith congratulary message or classic quotations. These scrolls are made of paper or silk. Recently it has become the fashion to have those well-meaning characters engraved on very thin sheets of silver and to present these framed in place of the usual scrolls. A present of this kind costs, according to size $4 to $6. It is too early to foretell whether the new idea will replace the old mode. If it should, it would provide a large outlet for silver.

In September the Huper Mint has received instruction from General Wu Pei-fu to turn out about 9 million Dollars for military expenses. The mint is able to coin $120,000 per day and will do so, provided the silver necessary for the purpose should become available.

CROSS RATES:

The £—U. S. $ cross rate fluctuated within very narrow limits only in September and does not call for comment here.

The Japanese Yen showed great weakness and fell off considerably towards the close of the month. This in spite of the continuance of a favorable trade balance in Japan during September.

Causes are difficult to discern. It is true that the autumn witnesses large purchases of raw cotton by Japanese mills. It was also surmised that the Manchurian authorities would throw large quantities of Japanese Yen on the market, in order to exchange these for silver. One of the principal factors was probably speculation,—a means employed by the members of the Shanghai gold exchange, who were keen sellers of Yen in September.

The French Franc kept fairly steady in September. The position of the Bank of France remained about the same as outlined in our Agust report.

On September 12 it was officially announced that J. P. Morgan & Co. have decided to maintain at the disposal of the Banque de France credit of 100 million Dollars, which had originally been granted for six months and which terminates on September 12. Only a fraction used had been repaid integrally several months ago.

The renewal was arranged simply as a precaution for the future, should a fight against the depreciation of the Franc become necessary again.

On September 11 the Banque de France raised its official discount rate from 6 percent to 7 percent. Revenue returns for September from normal sources totalled Frs. 2,015,000,000, an increase of Frs. 371,000,000 as compared with the same period last year. For the first nine months of 1924, the increase amounts to Frs. 3,654,000,000.

ANTI-FRAUD CAMPAIGN HAS COOLIDGE AID

Federal And Trade Bodies Will Aid Exchange In Nation-Wide Effort

As a result of expected co-operation on the part of Federal and State authorities to combat stock frauds and other forms of swindling carried on in recent years by various promoters, machinery which has already been set in motion by the New York Stock Exchange, the National Vigilance Committee, the Better Business Association is expected to take on nation-wide scope within the very near future. What has already been done along these lines, with the steps expected to be taken by the various organisations interested in the elimination of frauds, was outlined last month by E. H. H. Simmons, President of the New York Stock Exchange, in an address before the Seventh Annual Convention of the National Association of Securities Commissioners, at Richmond, Va.

The objective of the Stock Exchange, which has carried on campaigns against bucket shops and unscrupulous promoters of worthless securities for a number of years, either on its own behalf or in cooperation with the authorities or the Better Business Bureau, to which it contributes financial support, is understood to have received the formal sanction of the Federal authorities. Mr. Simmons last June confered with President Coolidge at the White House on the suppression of nation-wide frauds, which in Mr. Simmons's opinion can be successful only through nation-wide aid. At this conference, Mr. Simmons stressed the advisability of bringing together the existing machinery for the purpose of suppressing the activities of the fraudulent operators in stocks and other schemes, and his plan is understood to have hearty support on the part of the Chief Executive. The sympathy expressed by President Coolidge, it is understood, has given the Stock Exchange authorities a new incentive to push the campaign.

The New York Stock Exchange, said Mr. Simmons in his speech to the Association of Securities Commissioners, "will go to the very limit of its powers in fighting the fraudulent security dealers. The Exchange has spent large sums of money in cooperation with other interests, or alone, in the attempt to halt fraud." This, he pointed out, was no new policy of the Exchange, as it "has carried on a continual fight against the bucketshops for half a century, and even before that time was regularly engaged in fighting other forms which the evil of stock swindling has assumed. The New York Stock Exchange," he added, "has always stood ready to cooperate in any feasible and genuine effort to halt fraud, and always will."

In commenting upon the present and proposed laws, Mr. Simmons said that "whenever the Stock Exchange has opposed new laws aimed at the suppression of fraud this attitude has been taken solely because its practical experience has convinced it that the proposed legislation would not accomplish the object for which it was designed and would severely hinder legitimate business. There is, however, one phase of the problem of halting security frauds upon which the Stock Exchange is thoroughly convinced, and that is the necessity for continuously active enforcement of existing laws and of severely punishing the swindler." Mr. Simmons further said that "what America needs in handling our seemingly perennial problem of security frauds is more jail sentences, quicker jail sentences and longer jail sentences. Not until the security swindler begins to get hurt will he quit the fascinating pursuit of 'easy money.' When he knows that if he engages in swindling he will in the long run be severely dealt with in the courts he will hasten to abandon a business so personally dangerous to him."

New York Cuts Price Of Gasoline 1 Cent

A reduction of one cent a gallon in the wholesale and retail prices of gasoline in New York and the New England States was announced recently by the Standard Oil Company of New York. Under the new schedule gasoline is quoted at 18 cents at tank-wagons and 20 cents at service stations. This reduction follows that announced by the Gulf Oil Company, the largest independent competitor in the territory. It was immediately met by other companies, including the Atlantic Refining Company, Texas Company, Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company and other smaller independents. A similar reduction was made just a few weeks ago. Both are in line with the lower prices for crude oil in most of the Western fields.

Reductions in gasoline prices at this time of the year, when consumption of the product is at its peak, are surprising. Usually the prices advance in summer and ease off in the winter. The condition is due to heavy production of crude oil.

Gasoline consumption is the largest in the history of the country, running approximately 20 percent more than in the corresponding period last year, but large as this increase may seem, it is not sufficient, judging from the latest figures available, to make a deep impression on the surplus stocks of gasoline which the large oil companies are carrying over from last Winter. Then 1,600,000,000 gallons were in storage. This vast stock was accumulated, according to leaders interviewed yesterday, to take care of the recordbreaking demand anticipated during the current Summer. This demand materialised, but as an offset there was no appreciable reduction in production. Consequently there was not the heavy withdrawal from surplus stocks.

The American Petroleum Institute has published figures covering the gasoline consumption of twenty States. These figures showed the consumption of 946,110,715 gallons of gasoline in the six months ended June 30, against 779,449,667 gallons in the same period last year. For June alone consumption of the same States amounted to 192,326,091 gallons, an increase of 24,628,089 gallons, or 14.7 percent compared with the same month last year.

The belief prevails in oil trade circles that the reduction in gasoline prices in this particular section of the country may be followed shortly by reductions in other sections of the country.

When The Present War Ends—If It Ever Does—

MOST persons are reckoning time from the standpoint of business plans and otherwise with the qualification indicated in the heading at the top of this paragraph. In other words practically everything is at a standstill in China and will remain at a standstill until China's warlords get through with their autumn games. We say this hesitatingly in the face of the remark recently alleged to have been made by a prominent diplomat in Washington that the present war in China was "nothing but a bubble on the surface of an otherwise peaceful nation, and that the general economic situation was undisturbed."

However, in view of the fact that the actual fighting must stop sometime and of the further fact that within a few days two of the leading Powers having important trade interests in China—America and Britain—will have new governmental administrations as a result of national elections, it might be of advantage now for individuals and organisations, foreign and Chinese, to give consideration to the China which may develop out of the present chaos.

No one of course can foretell what may develop out of the present situation, nor when the actual fighting may stop, but when it does stop something will have to be done about China. The one certainty in the situation will be the complete bankruptcy of the provincial and national governments. Domestic and national debts technically in default at the beginning of the present war will be actual defaults when the fighting finally stops. Railroads which have managed in the past to meet their bonded indebtedness are bound to have difficulties when it is considered that for a period of practically two months their incomes have been nil and the end is not yet. Unpaid bills for railway equipment which were overdue at the beginning of this internal struggle will be in a much worse status when the fighting finally stops. And added to the grand total must be considered the bill for relief work which will be tremendous and will extend over many months to come.

In the face of all this China will require assistance and this time it will have to be something more substantial than moral blessings and kind words. In many ways the Chinese Republic will present a spectacle approximating the condition of many European countries after the close of the World War. In other words China will be at bedrock and any government emerging from this struggle will require foreign assistance if it is able to function at all. Just what form this help will take is impossible to forecast at this time, but that it will require financing on a large scale goes without saying. But surely the Powers have had sufficient experience in the rehabilitation of bankrupt and disorganised countries since the close of the World War and this should be of assistance out here when the proper organisation.

In the formation of programs for the future the foreign chambers of commerce, as well as the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce, should be able to make valuable contributions. Among the matters to be considered must be included the revision of the tariff duties and other unfinished matters left over from the Washington Conference. As a matter of fact the Washington Conference supplies the whole schedule for a new China if the machinery can ever be gotten into motion. Certainly there should be no further reason for further delay in the ratification of the Washington treaties on the part of the French Government, but if there is the Powers which have great commercial and financial interests in China should be able to find a way out of the deadlock in order to protect themselves if for no other reason. A new conference on the part of the Powers to consider China's case is one of the possibilities of the future if China is to be saved from complete chaos and distime comes.

It is not desired of course to paint China's case as hopeless. There is probably no country in the world with the power for constructive achievement which China possesses and that the country will finally emerge from the predicament in which it now finds itself goes without saying. The point is that foreign assistance will be required and, if the matter is approached in the right spirit on both sides public confidence may soon be restored. The fact that the major problems of Europe have now been settled, leaves the way open for a consideration of the problem of China and in view of the fact that the West must depend largely upon information obtained from its representatives in this part of the world, it is vital that the important trade bodies in Shanghai as well as in the other ports now give this matter serious consideration.

China At The Crossroads

TOMORROW a special ceremonial parade of the Defence Forces of the Settlement will take place at the Racecourse, in the course of which Mr. Stirling Fessenden, Chairman of the Shanghai Municipal Council, will convey to the local Volunteer Corps the thanks and appreciation of the community for their excellent and arduous work during the State of Emergency, when Shanghai had massed around it probably a larger body of Chinese troops than at any other time within recent years, and when fear and a feeling of uncertainty and uneasiness were the order of the day among the foreign and Chinese residents in the International Settlement and the French Concession. The splendid response, however, made by the Volunteers and other foreign armed forces proved afresh that a state of preparedness often prevents, rather than contributes, to war.

But further than that, tomorrow's function has another vital object-lesson for China, and that is the value of unity. We are reminded of the old story of the solitary stick that could easily be cracked between the fingers of one hand when taken by itself, but when stacked together with other sticks, resisted the pressure applied to it, thereby illustrating the fact that in union lies strength. There is a deeper meaning for China in the mere presence of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps. Here we have a collection of semi-military units of diverse nationalities. These latter may differ diametrically in their political views and in other ways. Their racial characteristics may be as wide apart as the two Poles, but when comes to defence of foreign interests in this part of the world, all their differences are forgotten and they resolutely stand shoulder to shoulder and meet on common ground.

It does not speak well for China that whereas men of different creeds and races, of which the Shanghai Volunteer Corps is composed, can be persuaded to act as one man, the Chinese militarists and politico-militarists, who, after all spring from the same racial stock, cannot be induced to pull together in the interest of the greatest good to the greatest number. It is difficult for the orderly peoples of the West to make any sense out of the perpetual struggle which has made of China since 1911 a torn and bleeding country. And, indeed, save to the comparative handful of ambitious and unscrupulous soldiers and politicians on either side, there is no sense in it. The Chinese people, as peaceful a race as any in the world, stand to gain nothing by it. It means no more to them than the Wars of the Roses meant to the ancestors of Britons, or the bloody feuds of their princelings to the peoples of the European Continent in the Middle Ages. For the chiefs there is something at stake. They are driven by what Hobbes called the "general inclination of all mankind, a perpetual and restless desire of power after power, that ceaseth only in death." And if the Lus and the Chis, the warlords and the presidents, can exalt themselves and debase their enemies, they will have no objection to reducing their country in the process to something like a Hobbesian State of Nature. Even they, perhaps, will not succed in making the life of a Chinese "solitary," but they can go far toward ensuring that it shall be "poor, nasty, brutish and short." But is the issue really as simple as this? Is it merely the lust of power that is hurling these factions against one another? The consensus of opinion among publicists in the West is that, for all practical purposes, it is.

One of the most suggestive contributions to the discussion of the Chinese question on the part of newspapers abroad has emanated from The New Statesman, which says:

> "We can find no other basis, then, for this war than 'the restless desire of power after power' in the various combatants. We have nothing but blame for those who are responsible for it, and nothing but sympathy for the innocent millions who will suffer in it. But is it possible for outsiders to play any active part in stopping it? The concerted action that has been taken at Shanghai amounts merely to a police precaution. There is no question about our right—and our duty—to protect life and property and international interests there. But intervention in the larger and more positive way that is now being discussed is a far more difficult matter. There is a profound and widespread objection in China to foreign interference, and there is ample reason for it. None of us has had quite clean hands there in the past, and some of us may be judged to have dirtyish hands even now. A proposal of mediation, therefore, by the united Powers is not likely to be jumped at eagerly by a united China. A further and substantial difficulty is that there is no united China to jump at it. There is only a number of provinces at daggers drawn with each other, and all more or less contemptuous of the central Government. Representations by Washington and London and Tokio to Peking cannot be certain of a hearing beyond Peking for the executive of the Republic is impotent. Nevertheless, it has been suggested that we should make Peking a channel for an invitation to the real holders of power who are now at each other's throats. It would be an invitation to the Lus and the Chis, the Wu Pei-fu's and the Sun Yat-sens, to meet round a table and listen to horse-sense. That, perhaps, is a form of intervention that they might accept. For it need carry with it no suspicion of ulterior designs against China on the part of the Powers. It would be an effort at mediation in the sole interests of peace, and the establishment of peace would be the only reward that the Powers would ask."

We fail to see, however, in the absence of a direct invitation to the Powers from the people of the various provinces of China to mediate in the present intolerable impasse, how the Powers can very well move in the matter. China must effect her salvation from within. Unless the people of China decide to have a voice in their own affairs and in their own destiny, no power on earth can help this country. In certain given circumstances, there is a distinct danger of China being driven into the arms of the Bolsheviks, who are watching China as a cat watches a mouse. It may be said of China today more than at any other time that she is standing on the crossroads. We wonder if she will take the right turning.

Other Views Than Ours On The War In China

CHINA IN TURMOIL

(From The Rochester, N. Y., Times-Union)

The situation in China, far from improving, seems to be more and more turbulent. The rivalries of military chieftains are plunging what has been most peaceful country in the world into civil war.

There are those who attribute the disorders that are taking place to sinister foreign influence. It is possible that such influences may exist but they are not the nub of the problem.

Politically, the question is one of the transition from autocracy to democracy.

It is well to remember that only 12 years ago China was governed by methods as autocratic as those in any country in the world. The Chinese people, on the establishment of the republic in 1913, had had not the slightest experience in or preparation for self-government, save in relatively small local units.

The change that was attempted was too sweeping. In Japan, although the power of the shogun and the feudal lords was swept away, the ancient authority of the emperor as the central figure in the government was revived and a small group of aristocrats and organisers of the new regime had great weight. Real parliamentary power has been a slow growth.

In China no such gradual transition was possible. When the imperial authority of the Manchus fell into decay the Chinese bureaucracy went down with it. China tried to bridge the whole gap between an outworn despotism and vital popular rule at once.

Democracy does not come that way. It is a long and slow growth, and there is a great difference in the capacity of peoples to adapt themselves to it.

The collapse of strong government has often been followed in history by a period in which military chieftains exercise the real power, and in which government splits up, and local units take the place of larger ones. This is the case in China today.

Underneath the political change is going on an industrial revolution. China is slowly, yet surely, absorbing western knowledge and adopting western industrial methods.

In the end this should raise the Chinese scale of living. China has vast deposits of coal, iron ore and other minerals. She has wide regions which will become productive and afford an outlet for the teeming millions of the more crowded provinces as soon as transportation is developed. The industry of her people is proverbial.

China gives promise of becoming ultimately one of the world's foremost nations. Although wide differences in speech, customs and physical type exist between the inhabitants of various provinces, the Chinese are fundamentally one people, with no such deep lines of cleavage as divide the nations of Europe. But the process of change and development must, of necessity, be a slow one.

What China has a right to expect, what the rest of the world has a duty to give, is patient understanding in the painful work of putting new workable institutions in the place of old ones.

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir:—The present war between Kiangsu and Chekiang has come to an end, for the Chekiang forces have already surrendered. But logically speaking, neither Chi Hsieh-yuan nor Sun Chuan-fang is a good fighting man; for none of them did dare to fight General Lu alone. Should Kiangsu or Fukien fight alone, the outcome of the present war would have been different.

However, the war in the north is still going on, and we can scarcely predict when it will come to a close. During this bloody killing of brothers and sisters, no one suffers more than the common people, who are altogether innocent. Peace-loving villages are being looted, rickshaw coolies are being dragged to the fronts, husbands have to leave their wives, parents have to give up their sons and what not. And who should be held responsible for this onslaughtering of the innocent citizens of the Chinese Republic? The militarists.

Now, not only are the poor being forced or pressed to give up their lives, the lives most dear to them, but the rich, who consider themselves safe, suffer the same fate, though of a little different nature. They are illegally taxed; they ought to give something of their property or they will have to be 'coerced.' This is true in almost every part of the fighting zones. But now comes the turn of Tsingtao.

I have received news from Tsingtao that Wu Pei-fu is trying to obtain some funds from the rich men there. But none suffers more than one Mr. Liu Tse Shan, the multi-millionaire. Through Governor Kao, Wu's subordinate, Mr. Liu is now 'pressed' to advance a sum of $5,000,000 (five million dollars) to the Chili party.' I heard that Mr. Liu was unwilling to give so much money under the pretext of 'loan.' But from reliable sources that have come to me, Wu will use everything he can to obtain the large sum.

On reading the Tsingtao Times of October 23, I also found that Mr. Liu, who is entirely ignorant of military affairs, is now appointed 'an adviser attached to the headquarters of the government punitive army.' What does all this mean? It is nothing, but the report that Wu Pei-fu 'will use every available means to obtain the money' is well founded. And how shall the money be used? to kill more of our people is the only logical answer. Will the Chinese continue to be the victims of such a man as Wu Pei-fu?

Consideration Hosts and Guests Should Show Each Other

The home that people like to visit is the one where no special effort seems to be made to entertain.

Guests occasionally have a few things that they would like to do quietly and by themselves in their rooms.

Often a quiet evening spent visiting with the family would be preferable to any other form of entertainment.

Everyone likes to have time to relax.

But there are some hostesses who do not realise this and wear out themselves and their guests with a constant tilt after exciting ways to spend the time.

The guests who cannot absent herself for a while each day is a most trying guest.

In most homes there are duties which only the hostess can perform and she should be given an opportunity to do them more easily by herself.

Constant visiting with a guest is distracting and makes planning for the guest's comfort almost impossible.

This should be taken into consideration by those who visit their friends and a little consideration lessens the extra work and makes it more pleasant on both sides.

Evening Bodices May Be Cut High at the Neck But Low Under the Arms

An evening gown was once known by its neckline. Its degree of formality was in direct ratio to its decolletage. What would have been regarded as in rather bad taste for the theater was quite appropriate for the opera; what would have been much too low for a quiet dinner at home would have been decorous enough for a formal dinner or reception.

Necklines cannot be so easily cubby-holed nowadays. A really formal evening gown may be high enough to touch the collar bone in front, and an afternoon frock may be provided with a fairly low-cut square neck in front. Moreover, certain evening gowns are provided with detachable collars that fasten up at the side or back or front of the neck.

Of the new evening gowns it may be said that the tendency is to make them lower in back than in front. Berthe of Paris—and others—continues the tradition of extending the decolletage to the waistline in back.

There is nothing especially new in that, hence it does not shock. There is something of novelty, however, in the fashion for making evening gowns quite low cut under the arms. Sometimes they are lower under the arm than they are at the neck—a fashion that suggests nothing quite so much as a man's sleeveless bathing suit. The sketch shows a new evening frock of this persuasion. It is of green crepe severely simple, accompanied by a long, narrow scarf of the same material.

Can it be that we are coming back to a period of separate high collars? Jenny favors this fashion, providing afternoon and evening gowns with them. Drecoll likewise make high collars buttoned at the side.

So general has the fashion for collaring the neck become in Paris that the shops are offering ornamental double-headed pins made to fasten collar or scarf, and there are sometimes earrings and bracelets to match the pins.

Evening gown with high neck, but cut low under the armholes. There is a scarf that is wound collarwise about the throat.

WISE AND OTHERWISE

BY MARY MARSHALL

ONCE UPON A TIME

It has been pointed out that "widows were held in high regard in all the colonies," in the early history of our country. "Even in Revolutionary days the reign of widows was absolute," comments one historian. "And the statement is supported by reference to the early love affairs of Washington, Jefferson, Madison, all of whom were profoundly influenced by 'the characteristic glamor that hung around every widow."

THE YOUNG WIFE LEARNS

That, though a man may protest that he does not need or like variety in cooking, it is best to keep a varied bill of fare. He may say that he prefers always to have oatmeal for breakfast—but don't make the mistake of serving oatmeal three hundred and fifty-six days in the year. He may say that he likes plain boiled eggs better. Take the trouble to poach or scramble or fry the eggs occasionally and you will find that he will remain found of plain boiled eggs all the longer.

That any man would far rather have very simple dishes well cooked than elaborate dishes done indifferently. Take well mashed potatoes—served piping hot, as smooth as satin, carefully seasoned with salt and butter, with maybe a dash of paprika on top—most men would prefer such a homely dish to all the fancy dishes of potatoes in the recipe book.

That most men are far more capable of changing their food habits than they seem to be. They are more easily persuaded to eat the things that are good for them than they like to let you know. The man who "never ate vegetables" before he was married often becomes quite a vegetable fan after a few years of marriage with a sensible woman who keeps tactfully reminding him that vegetables are wholesome. Just because your mother-in-law tells you it's useless to make Tom eat what he doesn't want to, don't give up hope.

How Ancient Is Man In America

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

It seems, upon the authority of the geologists of the University of California, supported by the accordant opinions of others, that the human skeletons recently found in the outskirts of Los Angeles are by no means as ancient as it was at first thought they might be. Professor Stock says:

"While the present report has not shown that the deposits containing the human remains are old in the sense that they belong to a geological period antedating the Recent period, the age of these beds and of the human remains might well be measured in terms of thousands of years, but not necessarily tens of thousands."

By the "Recent period," geologists mean the time that has elapsed since the cessation of the last phase of the Glacial age. That age, with its several successive invasions of ice, separated by intervals of mild climate, is included in the period known as the Pleistocene, and may have lasted altogether 300,000, or even 500,000 years. Only in the later stages of the Pleistocene is man known to have existed on the earth, but even so these first human types may have appeared 50,000 or even 100,000 years ago. In truth, all of these estimates in terms of years, or centuries, are lacking in exactness, though undoubtedly trustworthy in their general sense; that is to say, when taken as showing only relative age.

In one sense the story of the Garden of Eden and of Adam and Eve might be said to find some support in scientific discovery, since both agree that man began on a certain part of the earth, and spread outward from that location, instead of appearing at different places scattered over all sides of the globe. Ancient tradition knew nothing of America, but it did know something of a vanished continent, lying in the direction of America, which was said to have sunk beneath the waves of the Atlantic. This "Atlantis" of tradition modern science recognises as probably the last remnant of a vast "land-bridge" which once connected the eastern and western worlds, and may, therefore, have provided the way by which the human race, after originating in Asia-Europe, spread to the opposite side of the globe.

It is significant that one after the other every attempt to trace back the presence of man on our continent to an antiquity corresponding to that of early man in the old world has resulted in the conclusion that—as far, at least, as can be determined from geological and archaeological records—man's appearance on this side of the Atlantic is relatively recent. He came across the great bridge tens of thousands of years after the birth of his race in the East; then the bridge was destroyed, and he was left isolated in the new world, developing civilisations like those of Mexico, Central America and Peru, marked by racial ideas common to him and his ancestors, but unable to make general and permanent advances, so that when he was refound in the days of Columbus and Cortez he seemed as new to his discoverers as the world he inhabited.

Such a view of the origin of man in America of course leaves much to be accounted for. And it should not be regarded as excluding the possibility that in early times men also crossed to America via the Pacific Ocean, some coming over a "land-bridge" in the north and others making their way "from island unto island" through the archipelagoes of the Central Pacific, which in former times may have been more numerous and more closely adjacent.

But, however that may be, it appears that all of the archaeological remains of the Western continent are of relatively recent date. Their age is not even to be compared with that of the historic periods of Greece, Rome or Eygpt, to say nothing of the vastly more ancient remains and monuments left by prehistoric races in western and central Europe. Our "cave men" date back not even as far as the times of Julius Caesar, while those who inhabited the European caverns antedated the most ancient records of human history, sacred or profane, and lived under a different dispensation of the Equinoctial Precession.

In The United States Court for China

In Admiralty

Sale of S.V. "W.H. Talbot."

Pursuant to directions from the Hon. Milton D. Purdy, Judge of the United States Court for China, by decree filed October 28, 1924, in the case of Loong Kow vs. the Sailing Vessel "W. H. TALBOT," I will sell at public auction from the North steps of the United States Court for China Building at 11 Whangpoo Road, Shanghai, Republic of China, on Monday, November 10, 1924, at 11 a.m., the aforementioned Sailing Vessel "W. H. TALBOT," now lying near the Robert Dollar Wharf in the Harbor of Shanghai, together with her tackle, sails, apparel, furniture, boats, and other appurtenances, to the highest bidder.

It is hereby stipulated that 10 per centum of the successful bid must be deposited with me at the time the vessel is sold; that this deposit must be either by cash or certified check agreeable to me; that the balance of the purchase price must be paid me by cash or certified check agreeable to me within twenty-four (24) hours after said auction, and in the event of this balance not being paid me within that time, the auction will thereby become non-effective and must be held again, the depositor losing the amount of his deposit which sum will be paid toward the proceeds of the auction but not considered as a part of the ultimate sale price; and it is further stipulated that any and all bids can be refused by me in the event I consider a better price for the vessel can be secured.

MURRAY-HIMROD CASE IS HEARD BY JUDGE PURDY

Testimony Taken In Action To Tls. 12,392.51 Alleged To Be Due Packing Company

An interesting action was commenced yesterday in the United Sates Court for China, before Judge Milton D. Purdy in which Mr. Patrick H. Murray doing business as the Murray Packing Co., sued Mr. E. H. Himrod to recover the sum of Tls. 12,392.51 for egg products sold and delivered to defendant, Tls. 2,972.25 for alleged loans and advances made by plaintiff to defendant, and Tls. 600.00 money said to be paid to defendant to be given to the landlords of plaintiff's premises, but retained by the defendant.

Mr. W. S. Fleming appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. F. J. Schuhl for the defendant.

Opening the case for the plaintiff, Mr. Fleming said that the action arose out of certain business relations between the plaintiff and the defendant through his son who held from him a power of attorney. Plaintiff, on the suggestion of his son decided to start in the ice and cold storage business in Shanghai, but on the representations of the defendant decided to enlarge the scope of his operations to include egg packing. Defendant was not willing to invest capital in the concern but proposed an arrangement by which he would introduce business to the company and as compensation for his services he was to receive 42½ percent of the net profit derived from the egg packing side of the business.

When the plant was ready Mr. Himrod went out and secured orders from Wm. Martin & Co. and Fearon, Daniel & Co. with whom the plaintiffs, during the whole course of the business did not come in contact. Mr. Himrod took the orders, placed them with the plaintiff's plant who accepted the orders as from the defendant. In most cases the checks paid by these two firms for the goods were made out to the defendant and he gave receipts for such payments. Defendant purchased the eggs, delivered them to the defendant for process, and sold the finished article, but plaintiff had not been able to secure from defendant a statement of the money which he had received in payment for the goods.

Mr. Schuhl, in a statement on behalf of the defendant, said that his case was that the defendant was engaged as sales manager for the plaintiff company on a commission of 42½ percent, with a guaranteed minimum of Tls. 1,200. He would show that the plaintiff knew the business which defendant was doing and instructed defendant to make the payments which he would prove had been made.

After hearing the evidence of Messrs. W. Martin, of W. Martin & Co., and Mr. Geo. Brush, of Fearon, Daniel & Co., and Mr. P. R. Murray, his Honor held that the proper course for Mr. Fleming to pursue would be to bring a suit for an accounting.

Mr. Fleming thereupon moved for permission to amend the petition to include a prayer for an accounting, and upon Mr. Schuhl's objection that such an amendment could not be allowed, and that the case would have to be dismissed and a new action brought, his Honor adjourned the case until Monday, for legal argument on the point.

Rock Writings In Nevada Caves Are Chinese, Belief

(Reuter's American Service)

Virginia Coty, Nev., Oct. 10.—Weird rock writings in caves ten miles northeast of here are to be studied with a view to determining whether they are the work of Indians, as heretofore supposed, or of ancient Chinese.

Mr. Gee Ding, Chinese student at the University of Nevada, made a visit to the caves recently and expressed belief that the writings are Chinese and depict a story of ancient Buddhist priests, an attempt to circumnavigate the globe and of the landing on this continent.

It is legend in China, according to Mr. Gee Ding, that long ago, perhaps thousands of years back, five ships under command of Buddhist priests set sail and never returned. Mr. Gee Ding believes it may be possible the writings were made by these people.
